Budgeting, Forecasting, and Reporting for Non-Profit Organizations

Effective budgeting is essential for the success of non-profit organizations. A robust and flexible budgeting tool can be a game changer in maximizing your impact and allocating resources effectively. True Sky gives non-profit organizations the tools they need to improve their processes and maximize resources.

TRUE SKY BENEFITS

- Make the best use of your resources: True Sky's ongoing support means you can leverage a True Sky Consultant to support you with each budget cycle – adding resources to your team.
- Involve people outside of the finance team in the budget: True Sky is easy to use, so end users – even those without finance knowledge – can fully participate in the budgeting process. Directors, program managers, and other staff members can make meaningful contributions to help build their budget and review progress.
- Generate multiple reports for different sources: Easily create multiple input sheets and reports for different funding calendars based on governments', funding sources', or other agencies' requirements.
- Get precise with your budgets: Easily create multiple budgets and reports by any dimension (e.g., grants, donors, programs, locations) to accurately track expenses.
- Track staffing expenses: Often, salary expenses are the largest line item on a non-profit organization's budget. With True Sky, budget and report not only for data at the GL level, but also for employee expenses, either by person or position.
